The "Pomeroy" A Real Supporting Corset

A good corset, properly made and fitted, not only gives needed support to the vital organs, but moulds the figure to correct and graceful lines.

The Pomeroy is ideal for this purpose, for it is so designed that the uplift is given by the corset itself with no need for additional belt or other contrivances. The intersecting laces give an extra upward and backward lift which further helps the muscles of the abdomen to give the necessary support.
